The Regional Economic Development Institute at CSU is an engaged research enterprise that aims to understand, analyze, and inform economic development strategies particularly in struggling regions, both urban and rural.

REDI at CSU invites you to join us for the first RAPID Response Live Report

Joining us are Mike O’Connell of the SBDC and Jacob Castillo, Economic and Workforce Development Director, to discuss the most current news on the impact of COVID-19 on Colorado's Workforce and Small Business and get the most up-to-date resources. Q and A to follow.

April 15
1:00-2:00 pm
