RECOMMENDATION

April 13, 1967

The Public Land Classification Committee to the Montezuma County Commissioners unanimously recommends that ~~the~~ McIlmo Best ~~located~~ Unit of public land, ~~as~~ outlined on attached map, be retained by the Bureau of Land Management for multiple-use management, with exceptions as follows:

1. That those small upland tracts adjacent to private land and clearly most suitable for agriculture be considered for disposal under Public Law 88-607.
2. And, prior to any such disposal, that these tracts be reviewed by the County Commissioners.

It is further recommended that public land in this unit be closed to filing under the agriculture land laws and the isolated tract public sale law (RS 2455).

PROPOSED

NONMUNICIPAL WASTE DISPOSAL SYSTEMS
(Privies and Septic Tanks)

Resolution Dated March 13, 1967

Under authority contained in Chapter 66, Article 3, Colorado Revised Statutes 1963, as amended by House Bill No. 1204, Forty-fifth Colorado General Assembly (Section 66-3-14), the following rules and regulations are established by the Montezuma County Board of Health in relation to the construction and maintenance of privies and water closets and governing the location, construction, remodeling, installation and use of septic tanks, soil absorption systems and all other nonmunicipal waste disposal systems within the County of Montezuma, Colorado.

Section I

DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of this resolution the following words and phrases shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section:

BOARD OF HEALTH - Shall mean the Board of County Commissioners when acting as the local Board of Health.

HEALTH OFFICER - The duly authorized county health officer of the Montezuma County Department of Public Health, or his authorized representative.

COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH - The Board of Health, the Health Officer or his authorized representative.

PERSON - Any person, firm, partnership, corporation or association.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM - A System for disposing of sewage, industrial waste, and other wastes, and includes sewerage systems and treatment works.

SOIL-ABSORPTION SYSTEM - A system constructed underground which allows the effluent to be absorbed into the surrounding soil.

SEWAGE - Any combination of solid and liquid wastes. Sewage may or may not include human excreta.

EFFLUENT - The liquid waste discharged from a septic tank or other type treatment system containing finely divided organic matter in suspension.

CESSPOOL - An underground pit into which raw household sewage or other untreated liquid waste is discharged and from which the liquid seeps into the surrounding soil or is otherwise removed.

PRIVY OR WATER CLOSET - A privy or water closet is a properly constructed vault or hole in the ground with the toilet seat located directly over it, used for the disposal of human wastes.

Section II.

PIT PRIVY CONSTRUCTION

The following rules and regulations shall apply to pit privies, water closets and outhouses:

LOCATION - The location of the privy shall be such as to prevent the contamination of water supplies. The privy shall be located at least 50 feet from any well, spring, river, stream, irrigation ditches or canals, cisterns or other source of water supply. On sloping ground it shall be located at a lower elevation than the water supply. On level ground the area around both privy and water supply shall be mounded with earth.

CONSTRUCTION - A space not less than 10 feet square shall be made level where the privy is to be located. An earth pit shall be dug at least five (5) feet in depth and lined with wood sheathing, unless otherwise approved.

Impervious materials such as concrete are most suitable for the floor and riser. In some instances, concrete may not be available and tongue and groove lumber may be used. In any case, the privy shall be so constructed that it will be fly and rodent proof. The seat and seat cover shall be constructed of durable material and the seat cover shall be kept closed except when in use, to provide a fly tight pit.

The superstructure shall be of durable material; there shall be no cracks, all vent openings shall be screened, and the door shall be self-closing to provide for fly tightness.

A tamped earth mound shall be placed around the entire privy to prevent rodents and insects from entering the pit.

The Health Officer will furnish detailed plans for a privy that are approved by the State Health Department.

At Regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Montezuma, duly convened and held the 13th day of March, 1967, with Commissioners Matlock, Reddert and McCabe being present, and C. K. Herndon, Clerk, and Wm. A. Thompson Jr. also being present, the following proceedings, among others, was held:

NOW BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of County Commissioners, Montezuma County, Colorado, that: (see rules and regulations regarding nonmunicipal waste disposal systems attached hereto and incorporated and made a part hereof by reference)

Commissioners voting in favor of and for Resolution were: Matlock, Reddert and McCabe. Whereupon the chairman directed the clerk to make available copies for interested parties upon payment of $.50 for each copy to defray expenses for same.

The matter regards the fee to be charged for each permit was taken under advisement.

AUTHORIZING AND PROVIDING FOR A STUDY TO BE MADE SETTING FORTH THE NEEDS FOR WATER AND SEWER DEVELOPMENT IN THE COUNTY OF _____,
STATE OF COLORADO.

WHEREAS, the County Commissioners on behalf of the County of _____, State of Colorado, have determined that there is an immediate need for water and sewer development in said County;
and

WHEREAS, it is necessary that a comprehensive study be made with the assistance of a competent engineer to determine the specific needs of the County with regard to water and sewer development and the methods by which said needs can be met.

IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, that the County Commissioners of _____ County, be and are hereby authorized and empowered to provide for a study to be made setting forth the needs of the County with regard to water and sewer development and the methods by which said needs can be met.

This resolution is hereby passed, adopted, signed, and approved this _____ day of _____, 19____.

GUIDES FOR USE IN THE PREPARATION OF COMPREHENSIVE AREA PLANS FOR WATER AND SEWER SYSTEMS

- I. SUMMARY. Briefly indicate the area covered by the plan, describe the existing situation in the area and the principal recommendations made for meeting present and future needs for water and sewer facilities.
- II. NARRATIVE REPORT.
 - A. Describe the present situation as pertains to:
 1. Character, description, and present trends of population.
 2. Present financial condition of the area, its local units of government, and its people.
 3. Adequacy of existing churches, schools, transportation facilities and public utilities, and the obvious needs for improvement.
 4. Natural resources and economic potentials.
 5. Agricultural land pattern, including prevalence of owner-operated family farms.
 6. Agricultural production and trends.
 7. Water resources.
 8. Land use and trends in such use.
 9. Potential for recreation and tourism.
 10. Trends in real estate values.
 11. Existing plans for the area, including Overall Economic Development Programs.
 - B. Include a detailed report setting out proposed immediate plans (within the next 5 to 10 years) and long-range plans (20 years or more), including:
 1. Projections of population and desirable distribution of that population.
 2. Proposed future facilities for education, health, transportation, and recreation.
 3. Projected industrial and commercial development.
 4. Projected changes in agricultural operations, including changes in owner-operated family farms.

III. MAPS.

A. Include maps showing the present situation such as:

1. General area and political subdivisions.
2. Topographic and hydrographic features, including areas affected by flooding and serious water or wind erosion.
3. Soil types and land use capability.
4. Present land uses.
5. Present land ownership--private, State, Federal, or other.
6. Existing transportation facilities, recreational areas, schools, and utility networks.
7. ^{present and proposed} Detailed layout of existing water and sewer systems.

B. Include maps showing future planning, such as:

1. Future pattern and intensity of land use, including residential areas, industrial sites, farms, recreational developments, and so forth.
2. Location of future schools, hospitals, highways, and streets.
3. General layout of proposed public utility systems.
4. Plans to show proposed water systems and sewer systems, including reservoirs and treatment plants. These plans should be prepared in the necessary detail to show proposed services needed in the next 5 to 10 years and those ultimately required to meet projections of 20 years or more.

IV. PLANS FOR FINANCING. Include a long-range plan for financing the the community's water and sewer facilities.

V. PLANS FOR EXECUTION. Describe the proposal for carrying out the plan, including suggested priorities.

VI. SYSTEM FOR UPDATING PLAN. Include proposals for keeping the plan current.

VII. EVIDENCE OF CONCURRENCE. Include copies of all memorandums, certificates, resolutions, or other statements of concurrence in the plan by local, State, and Federal agencies.

October 25, 1966

Dear Sir:

Because of your interest in public domain lands in Southwestern Colorado, we're sending you a resume of actions pending as a result of the Classification and Multiple Use Act.

Review meetings, mentioned in the enclosure, will be held in several county seats. No dates have been set but most meetings will be within the next year. Advance public notice will be given.

We will appreciate any suggestions, comments, or questions you have after reading the enclosures.

Sincerely,

Arthur W. Zimmerman

CLASSIFICATION AND MULTIPLE USE ACT

Congress passed public law 88-607 in September, 1964. This law directs the Secretary of the Interior to determine which lands administered by the Bureau of Land Management should be disposed of and which should be retained in federal ownership and managed under the principles of multiple use to produce sustained yields of products or services.

The act provides that lands be:

a. disposed of because:

1. They are required for the orderly growth and development of a community;
2. They are chiefly valuable for residential, commercial, agricultural, industrial, or public uses or development;

b. retained in federal ownership and managed for:

1. livestock grazing,
2. fish and wildlife development and utilization,
3. industrial development,
4. mineral production,
5. occupancy,
6. outdoor recreation,
7. timber production,
8. watershed protection,
9. wilderness preservation,
10. preservation of public values.

Congress directed the Secretary of the Interior to develop regulations implementing the act. These are in circular 2201. Criteria for retention are discussed beginning on page 9, criteria for disposal beginning on page 10. Procedures for disposal are listed beginning on page 13, procedures for retention classification beginning on page 15. Copies of the circular are available on request.

INITIAL ANALYSIS

As a starting point in these considerations, BLM field men have inventoried the land and prepared maps. A copy of the Montrose District initial analysis map is attached. The legend on the map refers to types of units. These types are:

- Type I Areas where BLM administers over 50 percent of the land;
- Type II Areas where BLM administers 30 to 50 percent of the land;
- Type III (None in Montrose District) areas where BLM shares management with another federal agency;
- Type IV (a) areas where federal lands are needed for urban, commercial, or industrial uses;
(b) widely scattered tracts of public land.

ESTIMATE OF THE FUTURE

We can expect that most of the well-blocked public lands in Type I units will be kept under present administration, at least until Congress considers the recommendations of the Public Land Law Review Commission.

Decisions on public lands in Type II units will be harder to make. These are often scattered parcels with high resource values that affect local areas in many ways. They will need to be considered on a situation by situation basis.

Type IV units include widely scattered tracts and, in some cases, parcels near growing towns. It seems likely that, over the long run, a large part of these lands will be transferred to local ownerships provided they are chiefly valuable for residential, commercial, agricultural, industrial, or public uses or development.

STEPS TO LAND CLASSIFICATION
UNDER THE
CLASSIFICATION & MULTIPLE USE ACT OF SEPTEMBER 19, 1964

The Act directs that public lands administered by the Bureau of Land Management be classified for either disposal or retention.

Informal steps being followed by the District include contact with local user groups and interested organizations followed by a general public meeting to review classification proposals.

The formal steps (for tracts over 2,560 acres) are:

1. Publication of a notice of proposal to classify. This notice will appear in a local newspaper and in the Federal Register. It will give a general description of the location of the lands. It will list whether the classification is for disposal or retention. It will list the disposal provisions segregated against in retention classifications or those to be allowed in disposal classifications. It will give notice of the place, date, and time of a public hearing.
2. At the time of publication of the notice of proposal to classify, copies are sent to the Colorado Congressional delegation, the Senate and House Interior Committees, to the Land Law Review Commission, to the Governor, to the County Commissioners, to BLM state and district advisory boards, to each licensee, permittee, and lessee, and to each person at the review meeting who asks for a copy.
3. Sometime during the 60 days after the notice of proposal to classify has been published, a public hearing will be held.
4. If no major problems come up at the hearing, a notice of actual classification is to be published.

Several other things operate in conjunction with or as a result of these steps:

- a. When the notice of proposal to classify is published, the lands are, in effect, classified for two years.
- b. For 30 days after the actual classification is published, the Secretary of the Interior may modify it.
- c. Classifications can be cancelled. They can be terminated by publication of a notice of termination in the Federal Register, be reclassification, by legislation, or by expiration of the authority for classification.

WHAT CLASSIFICATION DOES

1. It opens the door for meaningful local and national land use planning.
2. Disposal classification alerts towns, cities, counties, farmers, industry, and others, of pending disposals; it allows time for planning and zoning.
3. Retention classification gives more assurance of continued multiple use. It gives public domain lands enough permanency and substance to make it worth while to plan for needed public and private investments.
4. Classification complies with the directives of Congress.
5. It gives the Land Law Review Commission specific information to consider.

Features of Classification

Retention classification causes no major change in the historic uses of the lands.

Retention classification tends to protect multiple uses by lessening chances of land patterns being broken up.

Classification can be changed when, and if, necessary to meet changing needs of the time.

The Classification Act (coupled with the new Public Sale Act) assures counties and towns of control over new residential or industrial developments on former public lands.

LANDS

There are about 2,247,000 acres of public domain lands in the Montrose District. These lands are in 13 Colorado Counties and a fragment in one New Mexico County. They make up about 20 percent of the land in southwestern Colorado. There are about 1,765,000 acres of public domain in type I units (red on the map), 346,000 acres in type II units (blue), and 44,000 acres in type IV units (white).

RESOURCES

Resources from these lands in fiscal year 1965 included about 4,685,000 board feet of timber, $20,750,000 worth of oil gas, other minerals and mineral materials, 164,000 animal unit months of livestock forage, 445,000 recreation visitor days, and 566,000 acre feet of water. These public lands support large numbers of deer and small game year round and supply critical winter range for many of southwestern Colorado's deer and elk herds.

RESOURCE AREAS

The District is divided into five resource management areas. These are:

Delta Resource Area includes the Alkali, Black Canyon, Escalante, North Fork, and Delta units. The area contains about 343,000 acres of public lands. It is managed by Gene Vecchia and Eugene Braithwaite with headquarters in Montrose.

Montrose Resource Area includes the American Flats, McKenzie, Peach Valley, Blue Mesa, Cimarron, Chaffee Gulch and Montrose units. It includes about 327,000 acres of public lands. It is administered by Maurice Ziegler, Forest Littrell and Dave Wickstrom with headquarters in Montrose.

San Juan Resource Area includes the McElmo, Durango and Dolores units. There are approximately 266,000 acres of public domain. Area headquarters are at 1211 Main, Durango. Area Manager Tom Rodda is assisted by O. B. Herrick, Joe Benton, R. L. Lewis and Wanda Dore.

San Miguel Resource Area includes the Paradox, Horse Range, Disappointment, San Miguel, Basin, Nucla and Norwood units, totaling about 846,000 acres. Headquarters are in Montrose. Brent Jensen, Arlen Jensen and Lloyd Emmons administer the area.

Gunnison Resource Area includes a total of about 465,000 acres in the Powderhorn, Cochetopa, Tomichi, Cebolla, and Gunnison units. The area is administered from Montrose by Elbert Spencer, Donald Henninger and Marvin Bagley.

District Staff

The five area managers report to Montrose District Manager, Arthur Zimmerman. The district manager and area managers are assisted by a 10-man, 4-woman district staff organized into a Division of Administration (Clerical-fiscal), a Division of Operations (engineering-operations-fire control), and a Division of Resource Management (Technical specialist in range, lands, forestry, wildlife.)

Temporary summer employees vary in number and include fire control aids and may include range, forestry, engineering, and recreation aids.

BUDGET

The District's budget for fiscal year 1967 has been set at $525,700.00. Of this, nearly $245,900 is ear-marked for erosion and water control work and other physical improvements on the land. Another $81,900 is for maintenance of improvements including roads and buildings, and for construction of sanitation and protection facilities. About $81,000.00 is for range and for wildlife habitat management and administration; $37,500 for management and administration of forests and timber sales; $26,000 for forest development and improvement work; $4,700 for fire prevention, $45,000 for services including fire fighting, clerical and fiscal management and general administration; $17,100 for development of district and unit plans; and $35,100 for lands case work and for land classification.
